Ban Nai's Kitakata Ramen

NOODLE

The distinct characteristics of Kitakata Ramen is its flat, wide and curly noodle. It contains the highest amount of water among other Ramen noodles, making it chewy, wobbly and soft. Our noodle is hand-crumpled to have distinctive curliness and texture. Please enjoy our one of a kind noodle!!

BROTH

We only use selected pork bones and spend long hours just to extract the pure umami of pork bones. Our Broth is light in color yet very flavorful, not oily and heavy, so that you won't be tired of eating our Ramen everyday!!

TORO CHASHU

Our signature "Toro Chashu" (Chashu pork) is hand-prepared every day at the restaurant. We use special cuts of pork belly and simmer them for several hours with our special soy sauce that is imported from Japan. Please enjoy our freshly-made Toro Chashu that are very soft and melt in your mouth!

KITAKATA RAMEN BANNAI

History of Kitakata Ramen Ban Nai

1958 The original "Ban Nai Shokudo (eatery)" was opened in Kitakata city by Shingo and Hisa Ban Nai, a married Kitakata local, and was operating as local favorites.

1987 Akira Nakahara, whom originally a craftsman of Soba noodle, visited Kitakata city and was fascinated by Ban Nai's Kitakata Ramen for its taste and quality. After several tries to work at Ban Nai, and showing his passion for learning at Ban Nai Shokudo, he was accepted by Ban Nai family. After long training and gaining trusts from Ban Nai family, Akira was allowed to bring Ban Nai's Ramen to Tokyo, and opened the first Kitakata Ramen Ban Nai in Shinbashi Tokyo.

Currently, there are 66 locations of Kitakata Ramen Ban Nai throughout Japan.
